

Critical Illness Insurance

You can't predict an illness, but you can be prepared

No matter where you are in life, you never know when you or a loved one could have a sudden illness. Fortunately, medical advancements and early detection are helping many people survive critical illnesses.

These technologies and tests can lead to increased medical expenses. With health insurance only covering some of these costs, an unexpected illness could make it difficult for you to pay your regular monthly bills, such as housing, utilities and child care.

Critical illness insurance from Colonial Life helps supplement your major medical coverage by providing a lump-sum benefit you can use to pay the direct and indirect costs related to a covered critical illness.

About 85% of people who have a heart attack will survive it.

American Heart Association, Heart Disease and Stroke Statistics—2017 Update, 2017, cited by CDC, Know the Signs and Symptoms of a Heart Attack, 2017.

One family's journey

Everything was going great for John. To celebrate his promotion and 45th birthday, he went to dinner with his family. After returning home from the restaurant, John had a heart attack. Fortunately, he survived and had critical illness insurance to help with the bills while he recovered.

MEDICAL EXPENSES

John's critical illness insurance helped him pay for the hospital bills that his medical insurance didn't cover.

LIFESTYLE CHANGES

After recovering, John's cardiologist recommended that he exercise regularly, so John used part of his benefit to pay for a gym membership.

REST & RELAXATION

With stress likely factoring into John's heart attack, he used part of his benefit to take a vacation, where he took the time to decompress.

How it works

Critical illness insurance provides a lump-sum benefit you can use to help pay for:

- Missed wages, bills and recovery expenses
- Lifestyle changes that may lead to better health, such as gym memberships and smoking cessation programs
- Expenses related to additional medical procedures, such as angioplasty and pacemaker implantation
- Any other expenses you choose

The average cost per patient for the first 90 days after a stroke is $15,000.

As cited by the National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke, Questions and Answers About Stroke, 2017.

Critical illness insurance can help with expenses from a major health event.

PREVENTION

To help make sure his heart stays healthy, John uses his annual health screening benefit to pay for his yearly stress test.
